A petition must include, or be accompanied by, the statement of facts as required by CRC 7.702.

- (b) Discretion of Court: The award of extraordinary compensation is within the discretion of the court. Ordinarily, extraordinary compensation will not be awarded without a proper showing that statutory fees have been exhausted.
- (c) Standards: CRC 7.703 provides examples of services for which the court may award extraordinary compensation. The court will not award compensation for legal services performed by non-attorneys, except for services performed by paralegals in accordance with CRC 7.703(e). Legal services do not include, and the court will not award compensation for, matters which are overhead, secretarial in nature, or do not require special legal skills. Ordinarily, the court will award no more than one hour for a court appearance in a non-litigated matter. The court will not award compensation for items such as office supplies.
- (d) Customary Compensation: In reviewing petitions for extraordinary compensation, the court considers the amounts historically and customarily awarded in the community. For attorneys' fees in non-litigated matters, the court has customarily awarded fees in the range of $200 to $400 per hour. For paralegals, the court has customarily awarded fees in the range of $75 to $150 per hour. For personal representatives, the court has customarily awarded fees in the range of $20 to $50 per hour. All petitions must clearly indicate who has performed the services for which extraordinary compensation is being requested. In the event that a personal representative performs services requiring special training and skills (e.g., a CPA preparing tax returns or performing an audit), the court will consider a higher hourly rate on a case-by-case basis. Counsel should not assume that the court will automatically award the maximum rates set forth herein. Litigated matters will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

The presiding judge will complete an investigation within a reasonable period of time, not to exceed 60 calendar days from filing of the grievance.
- (d) Decision: The presiding judge will notify all parties in writing of his or her decision. The grievance and the court’s findings must be maintained as a confidential record, and not as part of the file, for a period of 1 year. No one will be permitted to inspect the grievance or findings of the court without prior court order.

CHAPTER 7 - COMPLEX GENERAL CIVIL LITIGATION

RULE 7.1 - DEFINITION

Complex litigation cases are those cases that require specialized management to avoid placing unnecessary burdens on the court or the litigants. Complex litigation is not capable of precise definition and may involve, for example, multiple related cases, extensive pretrial activity, extended trial times, difficult or novel issues, and post judgment judicial supervision, or may concern special categories such as class actions; however no particular criterion is controlling and each situation must be examined separately.

(Eff. 7/1/99) (Rev. 7/1/08)

RULE 7.2 - CLASSIFICATION

At the first CMC, the court must make the determination as to whether the matter constitutes complex litigation. Upon the court's finding of exemption from ECT, the court must ensure that the case is progressing to a disposition in a timely fashion. The court may do one or more of the following: establish a regularly monitored program, appoint a special master, or otherwise administer the matter in order to promote the efficient administration of justice in accordance with CRC and the Standards of Judicial Administration.

(Eff. 7/1/99) (Rev. 1/1/02) (Rev. 7/1/08)

(Eff. 7/1/99) (Rev. 7/1/08)

RULE 8.2 - CONTINUANCES

As it is the policy of the court to avoid unnecessary delays in law and motion matters, requests for continuances must be based on good cause. The parties may stipulate, in writing, one time to continue a law and motion matter for a reasonable amount of time not to exceed 45 calendar days. The moving party must submit this request to the clerk's office by mail or fax at least (i) 24 hours before the scheduled hearing, or (ii) 48 hours before the scheduled hearing, if the hearing is before a visiting judge.

The parties must make all other requests for stipulated continuances of law and motion matters to the judge scheduled to hear the matter with parties in attendance. The request must indicate good cause for the continuance and describe the bases for previous continuances, if any. Failure to appear at the date and time set for the hearing may result in the matter being dropped from the calendar.

(Eff. 7/1/99) (Rev. 7/1/08)

RULE 8.3 - MOTIONS

All motions must comply with CRC 3.1110 - 3.1116 and 3.1300 - 3.1302 regarding the format and filing of papers. The parties must also follow any other CRC prescribing the method or setting forth other requirements for presentation of papers for filing.

If oral testimony is desired, the party must make a request to the law and motion judge, pursuant to CRC 3.1306, who may (i) grant the request and leave the matter as set, (ii) grant the request and re-calendar for a special setting, or (iii) deny the request and insist that the matter be heard on declarations.

(Eff. 7/1/99) (Rev. 7/1/08)

RULE 8.5 - SUMMARY JUDGMENT AND SUMMARY ADJUDICATION OF ISSUES

All motions for summary judgment and summary adjudication of issues must conform to the requirements of Code of Civil Procedure section 437c, CRC 3.1350 - 3.1354, and applicable local rules. The court will strictly enforce these requirements.

(Eff. 7/1/99) (Rev. 7/1/08)

RULE 8.6 - RESERVED

(Eff. 7/1/99) (Rev. 7/1/08) (Repealed 7/1/20)

RULE 11.10 - APPOINTMENT OF COURT-APPOINTED INVESTIGATOR OR EVALUATOR

- (a) Applicability: In any case in which custody or visitation is in dispute, the court may appoint an investigator and order that a child custody/visitation investigation and evaluation be conducted. The court will appoint an investigator in accordance with CRC 5.220(i), Evidence Code section 730, Family Code section 3110 et seq., and Code of Civil Procedure section 2032.010 et seq.
- (b) Challenges: The court does not allow peremptory challenges for court-appointed investigators/evaluators.
- (c) Withdrawal: A court-appointed investigator/evaluator for purposes of child custody or visitation purposes may withdraw from a case upon filing a petition showing good cause. The court will make the findings after consideration of (i) the petition, (ii) the best interests of the child(ren), and (iii) other relevant factors as determined by the court.
- (d) Ex Parte Contact Prohibited: No party or attorney for a party may initiate contact with a court-appointed investigator/evaluator, orally or in writing, to discuss the merits of the case without (i) notice to the other party and (ii) allowing the other party to be present or to receive a copy of a written communications. Nothing in this rule will prohibit the court-appointed investigator/evaluator from contacting either party or attorney.
- (e) Contact Between Court-Appointed Investigator/Evaluator and Minor Child(ren): It is the policy of the court to rely on the opinion and judgment of court-appointed investigator/evaluator in making determinations as to whether children will be interviewed. The court-appointed investigator/evaluator will justify his or her determinations in each case, and will determine under what circumstances the interviews will take place. Except in extraordinary circumstances, including potentially dangerous situations for minor child(ren), minor children will be informed that the information they provide may not remain confidential. When a court-appointed investigator/evaluator sees a minor child(ren) with one parent, he or she must also see that minor child(ren) with the other parent. Interviews with siblings, at the discretion of the investigator, may be separate. Unless ordered by the court, an investigation may not be based on an interview with only one parent.

- (f) Investigation/Evaluation Report: The court must specify the date on which the court-appointed investigator/evaluator must return his or her report. Generally, the report will be due within 60 court days from initial appointment. The written report will be distributed to the court, parties, and counsel in accordance with Family Code section 3111, and will remain confidential and unavailable to all other persons unless otherwise ordered by the court. No person who has access to such a report may make copies of the report or disclose its contents to ANY child(ren) whether or not a party to the action.
- (g) Grievances: Grievances against court-appointed investigators/evaluators will be handled in accordance with Local Rule 2.14.
- (h) Court Rules Regarding Court-Appointed Investigations/Evaluations: When the court orders an investigation or evaluation, the court will give each party a copy of this local rule.
- (i) Payment of Investigator's/Evaluator's Fees and Costs: When the court orders an investigation or evaluation, the court will also order the payment of associated fees and costs. If the investigator/evaluator is required to testify in court regarding his or her investigation or evaluation, the court will order the payment of fees and costs related to this testimony. In dividing the fees and costs between the parties, the court may consider Family Code sections 271, 2030, and 2032. If the investigator/evaluator is a contractor with the Court, (i) the Court may order that a party or parties pay all fees and costs, for the investigation or evaluation as well as any testimony, directly to the investigator/evaluator, and (ii) the investigator/evaluator may set his or her own rates and costs for testimony.

As necessary the court will determine, on a case-by-case basis, whether video and/or telephone conferences or examinations may be used in conducting a cross-examination of a court-appointed investigator/evaluator. All parties must schedule such appearances as directed by the court or as otherwise provided by local rule, statute, or CRC.
- (k) List of Qualified Evaluators: The clerk will maintain a list of qualified evaluators, and make this list available to the public upon request.

(Eff. 7/1/99) (Rev. 7/1/08) (Rev 1/1/16) (Rev. 7/1/18) (Rev. 1/1/20) (Rev. 7/1/21)

RULE 11.11 - MEDIATION OF VISITATION OR CUSTODY ISSUES

- (a) Purpose: The purpose of mediation is to reduce animosity that may exist between the parties, to develop an agreement assuring the child close and continuing contact with both parents that is in the best interest of the child, and to effect a settlement of the issue of visitation rights that is in the best interest of the child consistent with Family Code sections 3011 and 3020, and CRC.

- (b) Policy: Mediation services are available to parties when a case is filed with the court. If there is a disagreement over child custody or visitation in any matter before the court, the parties must attend mediation. No mediation will be scheduled if there is no pending matter before the court.
- (c) Referral to Mediation:
  - (1) By the Court With a Court Hearing: The court will refer parties to mediation at the time of hearing, if, in the court's judgment, the parties are not able to resolve the existing conflict regarding child custody or visitation issues. Parties are highly encouraged to work amongst themselves or with their attorneys prior to any scheduled hearing to resolve conflicts. The court may require each party to demonstrate what previous efforts have been made before referring the case to mediation.
  - (2) By the Parties With No Court Hearing: Prior to filing a petition, application, or other pleading to obtain or modify a temporary or permanent custody or visitation order, a party to an existing case may request that the court set a custody or visitation issue for mediation, and the court may set that issue for mediation even if no hearing is scheduled. The court may limit the amount of mediation services, if necessary.
  - (3) Process: So that a mediation may be scheduled, the parties must provide the following information: the case number and number of any related cases (include any domestic violence cases); whether a domestic violence restraining order is in place; the parties' names, current addresses and daytime telephone numbers; names and addresses of the parties' attorneys, if applicable, and any information which might affect the scheduling of a mediation session. Upon receipt, the mediator or designee will schedule an initial mediation and notify the parties. Pager numbers are discouraged as a contact number.
- (d) Mediation Process: The mediation service should be consistent and in accordance with CRC and statute. The mediator must provide information about the mediation process required by CRC 5.518(d)(5). The service attempts to resolve custody and visitation problems rather than to provide therapy or counseling. The service does not provide, nor should parties or counsels expect, long-term or on-going counseling regarding child custody, visitation or parenting skills. If the court determines the service provided has gone beyond custody and visitation issues, it may order the parties to reimburse the mediator for the time spent.

The mediator may review the court's file prior to any session. If there is other information or court orders from other jurisdictions that may be helpful to the mediator, the parties should provide copies at the mediation session. Mediation usually requires one or two sessions, with each session lasting about 1 to 2 hours.

Due to the mediator's caseload and the need for completing mediation without unnecessary delay, parties and their attorneys must cooperate and participate in the mediation process. Cancellations are discouraged and a reasonable cancellation fee may be imposed if a cancellation is found to be unnecessary. Parties should strive to attend their mediation sessions as scheduled to ensure an effective and timely process.

Excessive cancellations may result in sanctions or other action, as the court deems appropriate.

At any time during the mediation process:

- (1) The mediator may recommend to the court that an investigation/evaluation and report be made pursuant to statute and CRC. The court may make such order as it deems appropriate.
  - (2) The court may make temporary orders concerning custody and visitation to govern the parties' rights and duties until the mediation process is completed.
- (e) Cost of Mediation: There is no initial cost of mediation to the parties for court-provided mediation services. The parties must pay all costs and fees associated with mediation services not provided by the court. The court may contract with mediators who are private practitioners as it deems necessary.
- (f) Further Mediation: The mediator may request that the court continue any scheduled court hearing in order to complete mediation. The mediator must also advise the court if, in the mediator's opinion: (i) further mediation would be neither productive nor likely to lead to a settlement, (ii) the mediation cannot be conducted in a safe or appropriately balanced manner, or (iii) any party is unable to participate in an informed manner for any reason, including fear or intimidation.
- (g) Mediation Agreement: If the parties reach an agreement during a mediation session, the mediator must type or write the agreement at that time. The mediator must ensure that each party and each attorney who participates in the agreement reviews and approves the agreement. The mediator must ask the parties to sign the agreement prior to leaving the session. The mediator must give each party a copy of the signed agreement before leaving the session. The agreement will be signed by the judge, filed with the clerk, and placed in the court file as a court order.
- (h) Non-English Speaking Participants: In the event one or both parties is not fluent in English, the mediation should be conducted by a bilingual mediator or by a mediator with the assistance of an interpreter so the discussion during mediation is satisfactorily understood by both parties. If a party wishes to have an interpreter and is unable to bring his or her own interpreter to the mediation session, he or she should notify the clerk at least 5 court days before the mediation session, and the court will attempt to provide a reference for non-court supplied interpretation services. The requesting party must pay the interpreter costs prior to the mediation services.
- (i) Communication: No mediator may accept ex parte communications from counsel or any party. Attorneys and parties must not contact the mediator prior to the release of the final report. The mediator must not divulge final recommendations to either party or his or her attorney separately. Final recommendations will be made available in written form to all parties and their attorneys simultaneously, in open court or otherwise, as directed by the judge.
- (j) Sanctions: The court may sanction parties who fail to participate in mediation in good faith.

- (k) Emergency Orders: The court may appoint a mediator to act as a master mediator. The master mediator may make any emergency order that he or she determines is in the best interests of the child(ren) without making permanent changes to any existing order.
- (l) Separate Mediation in Cases involving Domestic Violence: If there has been a history of domestic violence between the parties or a domestic violence restraining order has been issued, mediation will be scheduled in separate sessions at separate times if ordered by the court or requested under penalty of perjury by the protected party or party who has made an allegation of domestic violence. The time and date of separate mediation sessions are confidential and are not disclosed to the other party. Each party is cautioned not to inform the other party of the time and date set. The mediator must render a written recommendation to the court regarding visitation and custody issues taking into consideration the parameters set by any restraining orders. The protected party may be accompanied by a support person during the mediation session. Until the court adopts the mediator's recommendation, the parties must follow any interim order regarding custody and visitation.
- (m) Participation of Children: The mediator may interview the children if, in the mediator's opinion, such an interview is necessary or appropriate. If the mediator interviews a child, the mediator must explain to the child the information set forth in CRC 5.518(d)(6). The parties may not bring the child to any meetings with the mediator unless specific arrangements have been made with the mediator in advance of the meeting.
- (n) Grievance and Change Procedure: Grievances against court-appointed mediators, including requests to change mediators, will be handled in accordance with Local Rule 2.14.

The notice must be given to the client within 10 court days of the attorney's appointment to represent the client. Evidence that a copy of the notice was given or mailed to the client must be provided to the court within 10 court days of a request therefor from the court. In the case of a minor client, the notice must be mailed or given to the current caretaker of the child. If the minor is 12 years of age or older, a copy of the notice must also be sent or given to the minor.
- (c) Review of Complaint: The court must review a complaint within 10 court days of receipt. If the court determines that the complaint presents reasonable cause to believe that the attorney may have failed to act competently or has violated local rules, the court must notify the attorney in question of the complaint, provide the attorney with a copy of the complaint, and give the attorney 20 court days from the date of the notice to respond to the complaint in writing.
- (d) Review of Response: After the attorney has filed a response or the time for a submission of a response has passed, the court must review the complaint and the response, if any, to determine whether the attorney failed to act competently or violated local rules. The court may ask the complainant or the attorney for additional information prior to making a determination on the complaint.
- (e) Finding that Court Rules Were Violated: If, after reviewing the complaint, the response, and any additional information, the court finds that the attorney acted contrary to the rules of the court, the court may reprove the attorney, either privately or publicly. In cases of willful or egregious violations of local rules, that court may issue reasonable monetary sanctions against the attorney.
- (f) Finding that Attorney Acted Incompetently: If, after reviewing the complaint, the response, and any additional information, the court finds that the attorney acted incompetently, the court may order (i) that the attorney must practice under the supervision of a mentor attorney for a period of at least six months, (ii) that the attorney must complete a specified number of hours of training or education in the area in which the attorney's conduct was incompetent, or (iii) both. In cases in which the attorney's conduct caused actual harm to his or her client, the court must order that competent counsel be substituted for the attorney found to have been incompetent and may, in the court's discretion, refer the matter to the State Bar of California for further action.
- (g) Notice of Determination: The court must notify the attorney and the complaining party in writing of its determination of the complaint. If the court makes a finding under subdivision (e) or (f), the attorney will have 10 court days after the date of the notice to request a hearing before the court concerning the court's proposed action. If the attorney does not request a hearing within that period of time, the court's determination will become final.

- (h) Appeal: If the attorney requests a hearing, the attorney must serve a copy of the request on the complaining party. The hearing will be held as soon as practicable after the attorney's request therefor, but in no case will it be held more than 30 calendar days after it has been requested except by stipulation of the parties. The complainant and the attorney will each be given at least 10 court days notice of the hearing. The hearing may be held in chambers. The hearing will not be open to the public. The court may designate a commissioner, referee, judge pro tempore, or any qualified member of the bar to act as hearing officer.
- (i) Hearing and Final Determination: At the hearing, each party has the right to present arguments to the hearing officer with respect to the court's determination. Such arguments must be based on the evidence before the court at the time the determination was made. No new evidence may be presented unless the party offering such evidence can show that it was not reasonably available to the party at the time that the court made its initial determination with respect to the complaint. Within 10 court days after the hearing, the court or hearing officer must issue a written determination upholding, reversing or amending the court's original determination. The hearing decision is the final determination of the court with respect to the matter. A copy of the hearing decision must be provided to both the complainant and the attorney.

RULE 13.10 - GUARDIANS AD LITEM

(a) For Minors:

- (1) All minors who are the subject of juvenile court proceedings will have a guardian ad litem appointed to represent them.
- (2) In most cases the child's attorney will be the guardian ad litem.

(b) For Parents:

The court must appoint a guardian ad litem to represent any incompetent parent or guardian whose child is before the juvenile court pursuant to a dependency petition. (See Welfare and Institutions Code section 300 et seq.) The determination of incompetency may be made by the court at any time in the proceeding based upon evidence received from any interested party.

(c) Notice to Guardian ad Litem, Access to Records, Right to Appear:

- (1) In all proceedings the guardian ad litem must be given the same notice as any party.
- (2) The guardian ad litem will have the same access to all records relating to the case as would any party.

(Eff. 1/1/02) (Rev. 7/1/08)

RULE 13.11 - COURT APPOINTED SPECIAL ADVOCATES (CASA)

- (a) Advocates' Functions: Advocates serve at the pleasure of the court having jurisdiction over the proceeding in which the advocate has been appointed. In general, an advocate's functions are as follows:
- (1) To support the child throughout the court proceedings;
  - (2) To establish a relationship with the child to better understand his or her particular needs and desires;
  - (3) To communicate the child's needs and desires to the court in written reports and recommendations;
  - (4) To identify and explore potential resources which will facilitate early family reunification or alternative permanency planning;
  - (5) To provide continuous attention to the child's situation to ensure that the court's plans for the child are being implemented;
  - (6) To the fullest extent possible, to communicate and coordinate efforts with the case manager/social worker; and
  - (7) To investigate the interests of the child in other judicial or administrative proceedings outside juvenile court; report to the juvenile court concerning these proceedings; and, with the approval of the court, offer his or her services on behalf of the child to such other courts or tribunals.
- (b) Sworn Officer of the Court: An advocate is an officer of the court and is bound by these rules. Each advocate will be sworn in by a judicial officer before beginning his or her duties.
- (c) Specific Duties: The court may, in its initial order of appointment and in any subsequent order, specifically delineate the advocate's duties in each case, which may include independently investigating the circumstances of the case, interviewing and observing the child and other appropriate individuals, reviewing appropriate records and reports, considering of visitation rights for the child's grandparents and other relatives, and reporting back directly to the court as indicated. If no specific duties are outlined by court order, the advocate must discharge his or her obligation to the child and the court in accordance with the general duties set forth above.
- (d) Court Authorization: To accomplish the appointment of an advocate, the judicial officer making the appointment will sign an order granting the advocate the authority to review specific relevant documents and interview parties involved in the case, as well as other persons having significant information relating to the child, to the same extent as any other officer appointed to investigate proceedings on behalf of the court.
- (e) Access to Records: An advocate will have the same legal rights to records relating to the child he or she is appointed to represent as any case manager/social worker, including records held by any agency, school, organization, division or department of the State, physician, surgeon, nurse, other health care provider, psychologist, mental health provider or law enforcement agency. The advocate will present his or her identification as a court-appointed advocate to any such record holder in support of his or her request for access to specific records. No consent from the parent or guardian is necessary for the advocate to have access to any records relating to the child.

- (f) Confidentiality of Case Information: This subsection governs the confidentiality of case information, in accordance with CRC 5.655(d).
  - (1) All information concerning children and families, including nonminors, in the juvenile court process is confidential. Advocates must not give case information to anyone other than the court, the parties and their attorneys, and CASA staff.
  - (2) Advocates are required by law (Penal Code section 11166 et seq.) to report any reasonable suspicion that a child is a victim of child abuse or serious neglect as described by Penal Code section 273a.
  - (3) The child's original case file must be maintained in the CASA office by a custodian of records and must remain there. Copies of documents needed by an advocate must be restricted to those actually needed to conduct necessary business outside of the office. No one may have access to the child's original case file except on the approval of the CASA program director or presiding judge of the juvenile court. Controls must be in place to ensure that records can be located at any time. The office must establish a written procedure for the maintenance of case files.
  - (4) If the nonminor provides consent for the advocate to obtain his or her nonminor dependent court file, the procedures stated in paragraph (3) related to maintenance of the case file must be followed.
  - (5) The advocate's personnel file is confidential. No one may have access to the personnel file except the advocate, the CASA program director or a designee, or the presiding judge of the juvenile court.
- (g) Communication with Others: There will be ongoing, regular communication concerning the child's best interests, current status, and significant case developments, maintained among the advocate, case manager, child's attorney, attorneys for parents, relatives, foster parents, and any therapist for the child.
- (h) Right to Notice: In any motion concerning the child for whom the advocate has been appointed, the moving party must provide the advocate timely notice.
- (i) Calendar Priority: In light of the fact that advocates are rendering volunteer services to children and the court, matters on which they appear should be granted priority on court's calendar, whenever possible.
- (j) Visitation: An advocate must visit the child regularly until the child is secure in a permanent placement. Thereafter, the advocate must monitor the case as appropriate until dependency is dismissed or the advocate is relieved from appointment.
- (k) Family Law Advocate: If the juvenile court dismisses dependency and creates a family law order pursuant to Welfare and Institutions Code section 362.4, the advocate's appointment may be continued in the family law proceedings, in which case the juvenile court orders will set forth the nature, extent and duration of the advocate's duties in the family law proceeding.

- (l) Right to Appear: An advocate will have the right to be heard at all court hearings, and will not be subject to exclusion by virtue of the fact that the advocate may be called to testify at some point in the proceedings. The court, in its discretion, has the authority to grant the advocate amicus curiae status, which includes the right to appear with counsel.
- (m) Distribution of CASA Reports: The advocate must submit his or her report to the court at least 5 court days prior to the hearing. The advocate must serve a copy of the report on the parties to the case at least 2 court days prior to the hearing. For purposes of this rule, the parties to the case include (as applicable): county counsel; attending case social worker; child's attorney; parents' attorney(s); child (via foster family agency); Indian Child Welfare Act representative; and de facto parents.
- (n) Adoption of Program Guidelines: The program guidelines adopted by the Judicial Council of California pursuant to Welfare and Institutions Code section 100(a) are adopted and incorporated into these local rules.
