Courtroom #1: Judge J. Omar Rodriguez

FL-25-00067 Ramos, Candy vs. Ramos Jr, Joseph

The hearing in Petitioner's Request for Order filed August 28, 2026 is continued to December 16, 2026 at 8:30 a.m. because Respondent failed to file an updated income and expense declaration. Respondent shall file and serve a current income and expense declaration no later than December 4, 2026.

FL-25-00235 Flores, Marina vs. Flores, Gary Matthew

Petitioner's September 15, 2026 Request for Order is GRANTED as requested. "Every court shall have the power ... (t)o compel obedience to its judgments, orders, and process, and to the orders of a judge out of court, in an action or proceeding pending therein." (Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §128(a)(4).) "A court typically appoints an elisor to sign documents on behalf of a recalcitrant party in order to effectuate its judgments or orders, where the party refuses to execute such documents." (Blueberry Properties, LLC v. Chow (2014) 230 Cal.App.4th 1017, 1020.) Here, judgment was entered and included a provision that addressed the division of Respondent's 401(k). The judgment states that the parties shall share the costs of using Attorney Jessica Strasen to prepare the Qualified Domestic Relations Order ("QDRO"). Within 10 days of signing the marital settlement agreement they would provide Attorney Strasen with the requisite fees and documents necessary to allow her to prepare the QDRO. Respondent failed to comply with the terms of the judgment as he failed to sign required releases, communicate with Petitioner and pay his share of the fees associated with the preparation of the QDRO within the 10 days of signing the judgment.
